

ITALY'S BLACK SEA TRADE NEGLIGIBLE

Russian Ports Closed and Two Trieste Steamers Detained for a Week.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
Copyright, 1922, by THE NEW YORK HERALD.

New York Herald Bureau, Rome, Nov. 18. In spite of the existence of a commercial treaty, very little trade is being carried on between Black Sea ports and Italy. The Commercial Mission in Rome does not furnish figures, but, judging from the cargoes reported by a steamship company which plies in the Black Sea, South Russian trade is negligible.

Some importation of machinery and lumber is taking place, but, except for mineral fertilizers, Russia is still finding it difficult to send to Mediterranean ports. Reports of the recent closing of Russian ports to Italian ships were confirmed by The New York Herald's correspondent from the Russian mission in Rome and by Lloyd's Trieste Company, two of whose steamships were held captive in Odessa for a week.

This action is said to be the result of a dispute between the Russian Commercial Mission in Italy and the Italian Agrarian Consortium of Piacenza over a consignment of 2,500,000 lire worth of sulphate of ammonia from Russia. The order was never filled but the consignment of fertilizer was sold through the auction to another firm in Milan. When the goods arrived the consignment was sequestered.

"The closing of South Russian ports to Italian ships was a counter measure," said M. Dvorovsky, Soviet Minister. "The Russian Government does not want to interfere with Italy's internal policies and is ready to deal with any government which assumes a favorable attitude toward Russia and keeps its obligations."

A Sure Way to End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, all itching and itching of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.
